Arise, members! Capcom's legendary role-playing game Dragon's Dogma: Dark Arisen joins the GeForce NOW library today.

The RPG and THQ Nordic's Jagged Alliance 3 are newly supported on GeForce NOW, playable on nearly any device.

Become the Arisen and take up the challenge in Capcom's critically acclaimed RPG. Set in a huge open world, Dragon's Dogma: Dark Arisen brings players on an epic adventure filled with challenging battles and action.

But there's no need to go it alone: Adventure with up to three Pawns. These customizable AI companions fight independently, demonstrating prowess and ability they've developed based on traits learned from each player.

Players can share their Pawns online and reap rewards of treasures, tips and strategy hints for taking down terrifying enemies. Pawns can also be borrowed when specific skills are needed to complete various challenging quests.

Revisit Gransys or experience Dragon's Dogma for the first time. Members can play the real Steam version of this RPG classic with support for stunning visuals and high-resolution graphics, even on devices like Macs, mobile devices and smart TVs. Priority members can adventure at up to 1080p 60 frames per second, or upgrade to an Ultimate membership for gameplay at up to 4K 120 fps, longer streaming sessions and RTX ON for supported games.

Another week means new games.

THQ Nordic's tactical RPG Jagged Alliance 3 joins the cloud this week. Chaos reigns when the elected president of Grand Chien — a nation of rich natural resources and deep political divides — goes missing and a paramilitary force known as "The Legion" seizes control of the countryside. Recruit from a large cast of unique mercenaries and make choices to impact the country's fate.

Members can look forward to the following this week:

Jagged Alliance 3 (New release on Steam , July 14)

Dragon's Dogma: Dark Arisen ( Steam )

On top of that, in collaboration with EE, the U.K.'s biggest and fastest mobile network, GeForce NOW launched new cloud gaming bundles featuring Priority and Ultimate memberships. To celebrate, check out how streamer Leah 'Leahviathan' Alexandra showcased GeForce NOW in action at the U.K.'s highest-altitude gaming den on the slopes of Ben Nevis, 1,500 feet above sea level in the clouds of the Scottish Highlands.
